A rather irreverent tasting panel decides rosé sparklers pair well with Hollywood stars

DOMAINE CARNEROS.

2016 Domaine Carneros by Tattinger Brut Rosé, Napa Valley

Estate-grown Pinot Noir (58%) and Chardonnay (42%) grapes are blended for this classy wine, redolent of red fruits, especially wild strawberries and ruby grapefruit. Super bright acidity and elevated notes, but with staying power and a long finish. Our Broadway gal said “confident flirt that doesn’t take itself too seriously.” We came up with Hugh Jackman, considered Kenau Reeves, but settled on Derek Jeter—not a Hollywood star, but the consummate hero/nice guy. SRP: $44
