US Sparkling Wine Ready to Roll

By W. Blake Gray | Posted Saturday, 28-Dec-2019

It's different to Champagne, but US sparkling has charms of its own, W. Blake Gray discovers. New Year's Eve is no longer a one-night stand with bubbly. Americans now spend more money on sparkling wine in a year than anyone else in the world, according to IWSR. The increased business comes at a great time. After years of struggling in the shadows of Champagne, American sparkling wine is ready for its closeup. Much like Napa Cabernet and Bordeaux, American sparkling wine is different from Champagne – but people are finally beginning to realize that "different" can also mean "better". Here are some delightful US sparkling wines to enjoy any day of the year.

DOMAINE CARNEROS.

2015 DOMAINE CARNEROS BY TAITTINGER CARNEROS BRUT ROSÉ

A yeasty aroma with wild strawberries. Initially quite fresh, and then wild strawberry builds on the lengthy finish.
