

Forbes

Dining

21 Sparkling Wines To Welcome 2021

Jessica Dupuy | Dec 29, 2020

The dawn of a New Year calls for something sparkling—even if gatherings are significantly smaller this year. And considering the tumultuous season all of 2020 has been, it's only fitting to raise a glass in hopes of a better year ahead. While Champagne produces some of the world's most coveted selections—and with good reason—you'll find many other regions around the globe that offer sparkling wines of similar quality and at a great value. From top finds of France's revered sparkling region to elegant delights produced as far south as New Zealand, here are 21 bubbly selections to usher in 2021.

THE ITALIAN CONTENDERS

Most people are familiar with light, refreshing, and budget-friendly Prosecco, but it's worth diving deeper into Italian sparkling wine regions such as Franciacorta, Trentodoc, and top-tier Prosecco.

Bisol Jeio Conegliano Valdobbiadene Prosecco Superiore DOCG, $17

Boasting the elevated status of Conegliano Valdobbiadene Prosecco Superiore, this isn't your average Prosecco. Elegant toasty notes of hazelnut and brioche lead the palate with peaches and spiced apples.

