

Top 100 Wines of 2020

December 24, 2020 – James Melendez

My top 100 is not about number 1 being number 1 it is a list that is in alphabetical order. It is a list of top 100 but a selection of wines of excellence and impression in beauty. I am not creating a list of hierarchy or a descending order list. My top 100 is about giving a list of beautiful wines and no hierarchy – you might interpret that the highest score is the “best” wine but I caution against that. I would say that the score represent a score of the wine’s region, variety and vintage and can be compared with other wines from the same variety, vintage and region and cross comparing regions, vintages or variety is not my intention.
