

Weekend Roundup: Divisadero Wine Shop Opens, Tiffany Celebrates Watches With Liev Schreiber

BY KATIE SWEENEY | NEWS | MARCH 13, 2017

The corner of Sacramento and Divisadero Streets has just gotten swanky, the San Francisco Chronicle reports. A new fine wine, beer, and spirits shop, Maison Corbeaux, has opened up its doors. You may know general manager Kyle Nadeau—he oversees the team at Wingtip's Bank of Wine & Spirits, a downtown liquor store that has changed its name to Maison Corbeaux to keep branding consistent. Over 1000 bottles are available and wine buyer Michael Hildbold says that old rare wines are the shop's specialty.
